

This section is presented for guidance only; the full and formal wording of general policies may be obtained from the University of Canterbury Policy Library (www.canterbury.ac.nz/ucpolicy). Students and staff should check the website regularly for updates.

A E
The University of Canterbury is a member of the Association of Universities and Colleges in New Zealand (AUCNZ) since 1999. The Association of Universities and Colleges in New Zealand (AUCNZ) is a non-profit organisation that represents the interests of universities and colleges in New Zealand. The Association of Universities and Colleges in New Zealand (AUCNZ) is a non-profit organisation that represents the interests of universities and colleges in New Zealand. The Association of Universities and Colleges in New Zealand (AUCNZ) is a non-profit organisation that represents the interests of universities and colleges in New Zealand.

• Food

• The University of Canterbury is committed to providing a safe and healthy food environment for all students and staff. This includes ensuring that all food served on campus is of high quality and meets the highest standards of food safety and hygiene.

• The University has a number of food outlets on campus, including cafes, restaurants, and canteens. All of these outlets are subject to regular health and safety inspections by the local council.

• The University also has a number of food-related policies in place, including a food safety policy, a food hygiene policy, and a food waste policy. These policies are designed to ensure that all food served on campus is safe and healthy.

• The University is also committed to providing a range of food options to meet the needs of all students and staff. This includes providing vegetarian and vegan options, as well as options for students with food allergies and intolerances.

• The University is also committed to providing a range of food options to meet the needs of all students and staff. This includes providing vegetarian and vegan options, as well as options for students with food allergies and intolerances.

• The University is also committed to providing a range of food options to meet the needs of all students and staff. This includes providing vegetarian and vegan options, as well as options for students with food allergies and intolerances.

• The University is also committed to providing a range of food options to meet the needs of all students and staff. This includes providing vegetarian and vegan options, as well as options for students with food allergies and intolerances.

• The University is also committed to providing a range of food options to meet the needs of all students and staff. This includes providing vegetarian and vegan options, as well as options for students with food allergies and intolerances.